ABSTRACT

Installing a software is to create a computer which based on CPU, keyboard, mouse, monitor, printer, and many more. Installing software meant to be installing software in the computer or PC. Inputing data is to input data to a computer or cpu that will be used and saved by the computer. The report is all about the meaning of field observation which is installing software to an computer, maintaining computer and software, inputing data, database creation.

Keywords: Software Installation, Software maintaining, and Inputing data