

ABSTRACT

The application of the health protocol discipline is one of the work programs of the Pliken Village KKN-T students to overcome and prevent the spread of Covid-19 in the Pliken village community. The high rate of transmission of Covid-19 in Pliken Village is a concern for immediate efforts that can help the community to be alert and avoid Covid-19. The lack of awareness and discipline in complying with health protocols is one of the factors causing the high transmission of Covid-19 in Pliken Village. Based on these problems, it is necessary to implement the discipline of health protocols within the Pliken village community as a prevention of the transmission of Covid-19. This activity was carried out in the Pliken Village, Kec. Kembaran, Kab. Banyumas aims to increase awareness and lifestyle habits of the community during the Covid-19 pandemic. This work program is in the form of educational activities, socialization, disciplinary mask operations, and distribution of masks to target communities who still violate the health protocol discipline. The results achieved from this KKN-T work program are (1) increasing public insight and knowledge about the discipline of the Covid-19 health protocol, (2) the community gets a large supply of masks as personal protective equipment to prevent the transmission of Covid-19, (3) the community have increased awareness about the dangers of Covid-19, (4) increased public awareness to invite other people to protect themselves from the transmission of Covid-19.
