

ABSTRACT

Field Work Practice is a place or environment for students to meet the real world of work. When carrying out the Field Work Practice, students are expected to be able to recognize and apply the knowledge gained during college into the company or agency where they carry out the Field Work Practice. The Telkom Institute of Technology provides practical work facilities as one of the compulsory subjects that students must take, as a debriefing to train soft skills in the field they are engaged in. Satellite TV program shows the News program which displays actual news so that it becomes a guide for the public to get accurate information. Apart from being broadcast on television, live, Satellite TV also broadcasts news through several other mass media, namely newspapers, YouTube and Instagram to keep up with digital developments.
