

ABSTRACT

As human resources, we are required to have the expertise, experience and sensitivity to overcome the problems that exist in the world of work. Practical work helps students to recognize and show a picture so that they are familiar when entering the real world of work. Practical work is given the opportunity to implement the knowledge that has been learned in college and gain new knowledge that can be useful in the future. In this practical work report, the authors share their experiences during practical work. What is obtained and found in this practical work. In carrying out this practical work, the author can conclude that in practical work it can provide an overview of the situation and conditions in the real world of work, the author can also apply the knowledge gained in training.
