ABSTRACT

Delivery of information needed by all sectors of trade, advertising, service and government. Of course, from all sectors, the style of delivering information is different. The purpose that distinguishes the way of delivery and presentation. In a youth, sports, culture and tourism institution, information is important. Submission of this information is shown to the public as a medium of information and promotion. Therefore, it takes a presentation that is straightforward, organized and efficient so that it can touch the community. The application of information on supporting media that is consumed by the public can be an effective step. Therefore, reforms are needed that can be carried out by related institutions so that they can reach the community more optimally
