Born in the digital industry era, JAWS provides alternative solutions to customers to stay ahead of technology transformation to meet today's business needs. The purpose of this report is to find out how the process of making a company profile website uses wordpress technology, apply the knowledge learned from lectures into the work environment, get to know firsthand the conditions, organization, and main activities and share experiences when doing work practices in the field with readers. The author uses the library study method and the interview method during practical work and when preparing reports. The literature study method used by the author is to find references about PT. Nusantara Solution Champion. Then, the interview method used by the author was carried out to get a solution during the implementation of work practices. Website company profile from PT. Jawara Solusi Nusantara was created because they wanted to migrate to wordpress because the use of wordpress is very user friendly and easy to understand. In making this website the author goes through a series of processes such as analysis (use cases, activity diagrams, mind maps), design and development. However, in making this website the author has not carried out the testing process and has not been hosted. Therefore, the author suggests testing the company profile website using the black box testing method and hosting it so that it can be tested using Selenium IDE tools.
