The Purwokerto District Attorney is a state institution that exercises state power located in the city of Purwokerto, especially in the field of prosecution. The Prosecutor's Office is also the only agency implementing criminal decisions (executive ambtenaar). Cases that are processed in large quantities can be optimized with the use of technology. Websites have become a part of society that can be used easily with internet access. The website is not focused on E-commerce applications but can also be used as a media for data management, especially on this occasion the Purwokerto District Attorney. The design is done by creating a display layout followed by database model design and implementation using the laravel framework. Laravel is an open-source PHP framework, other supporting tools such as Visual Studio Code and XAMPP are also used in its development.
