

Abstraction

The Independent Study Activity with PT Global Intra Talenta is an activity to hone soft-skills and tech-skills in order to prepare students to have provisions when they will enter the industrial world. In this activity, several exercises and introductions will be given regarding the project to be worked on. The final project of this activity is Lingo Parent Application. Lingo parent is a web-based application that is used by parents to track to students see the progress of students' learning status regarding language learning followed by students. application parent lingo uses a three tier architecture communication its client-server . This application uses the MySQL database Sequelize with the help of . to retrieve data from the database according to what is called Using Node Js in writing code by back-end and using expressjs. In addition, the use of postman to do API documentation or do testing of the created endpoint. After the Rest API is formed, deployment or deployment using the digital ocean platform.

Keywords: lingo parent, independent study, back-end